TYPES OF NON-PROFIT ORGANISATION AFFILIATES

NON-MARKET-BASED ORGANISATIONS

Non-profit organisations whose mission is public interest-oriented, and whose economic activity is not structured around competition or profit generation.

Affiliation fees: The choice of level is entirely voluntary and left to the affiliate's discretion, based on their willingness to support the Foundation. No selection is imposed based on the type or size of the organisation.

MARKET-BASED ORGANISATIONS

Non-profit organisations that offer goods or services on a market. What defines them is their economic activity and market orientation, including pricing autonomy, competition, or the nature of the organisations they represent or serve.

Affiliation fees: Their fees are calculated based on declared annual turnover, according to the thresholds set out in this document. Affiliates in this category may also opt for a higher level if they wish to support the Foundation's activities. For organisations operating in more than one country, particularly multinational or pan-European companies, the consolidated turnover is used as the reference.

ELIGIBLE ORGANISATIONS (NON-MARKET-BASED)

- Patient organisations
- Professional and scientific societies
- Universities and academic institutions
- Non-profit healthcare and quality improvement networks
- University hospitals: considered non-market-based organisations as long as they operate under a public service or academic mandate, are funded primarily through public budgets or regulated reimbursement systems, and reinvest any profits into care, teaching and research. This status clearly differentiates them from private hospitals, which operate under private ownership or for-profit models, set prices independently, and may distribute profits to investors or owners.

PATIENT ORGANISATIONS

Organisations which are patient focused, and whereby patients and/or carers (the latter when patients are unable to represent themselves) represent a majority of members in governing bodies, are eligible for a 50% discount on the affiliation fee.
